CLOSING REMARKS

OPENING REMARKS

To our event sponsors, volunteers,

It is with deep appreciation that we celebrate you this evening. Your commitment to Volunteer Lawyers Project manifests your commitment to our clients and our community. Your work completes the circle that begins when a person whose life is in upheaval reaches out to us for help. Knowing you are there allows us to offer them quality representation, whether they face homelessness, loss of property, loss of income, suffocating debt, the need for guardianship of a disabled family member, or any number of issues that can destabilize an already precarious peace.

Thank you for caring, thank you for answering the call to pro bono commitment, and thank you for answering our calls.

Gratefully,

AWARD DESCRIPTIONS

JUDGE EDWARD M. GINSBURG GIDEON'S TRUMPET AWARD

The Judge Edward M. Ginsburg Gideon's Trumpet Award was established in 2003 to honor the outstanding work of a member of the pro bono panel of VLP's Senior Partners for Justice project. The late Judge Edward Ginsburg, who founded Seniors Partners for Justice, named the award after the book Gideon's Trumpet by Anthony Lewis, which chronicles the establishment of the right to counsel in criminal cases at all levels of the American judicial system. The award honors those striving to provide similar access to justice in civil matters.

DENIS MAGUIRE PRO BONO AWARD

Denis Maguire, who served as the treasurer of both the Volunteer Lawyers Project (VLP) and Boston Bar Association, personified the commitment to public interest for which Boston lawyers are noted. VLP established the Denis Maguire Pro Bono Award in 1989 to honor the work of outstanding members of its pro bono panel and to commemorate Denis Maguire's commitment to VLP and access to justice through pro bono efforts.

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

HANNAH L. KILSON ESQ.

PRESIDENT, BOSTON BAR ASSOCIATION

For nearly 50 years, VLP has strived to give equal access to representation for the people of Greater Boston and throughout the Commonwealth, through recruiting, mentoring, and training, propelled by a strong team of volunteers from all segments of the legal community. What began as a project of the Boston Bar Association, VLP has since blossomed into a pillar of our local legal community, increasing access to justice by delivering high quality pro bono civil legal services. VLP and its volunteers graciously assist with a range of crucial civil legal assistance, from matters of bankruptcy and employment to family matters and housing—which, if you know me, you know is a cause near and dear to my heart. I'm proud to say that the relationship between VLP and the BBA remains as strong as ever. One of the core functions of the BBA is to facilitate access to justice, and it is a privilege of ours to help support the efforts of VLP to do the same, whether through promoting VLP volunteer opportunities to our members, getting the word out to the legal community about the myriad ways it can help, or through the Boston Bar Foundation—the BBA's charitable arm—which has helped support the great work of VLP and its call centers through its yearly IOLTA granting process.

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

HANNAH L. KILSON ESQ.

PRESIDENT, BOSTON BAR ASSOCIATION

I have always believed that, as lawyers, we have a special set of skills, and that we have a responsibility to use those skills for the betterment of the community whenever, wherever, and however we can. It is our duty and our privilege to ensure that even when it seems difficult, help is always there for those who need it most. Throughout my career, I have been driven by service to others—from my first job as a counselor at a summer camp in Maine serving children from under-resourced neighborhoods in Boston and Lawrence through my time as an attorney in both the public and private sector. That drive was instilled in me from a young age by my parents—my father used to call it his “helping hand” ethos. At the BBA, we encourage our members to find those opportunities best suited to their particular set of skills and their lived experience. We believe, like the dedicated staff and volunteers at VLP, that access to justice should never be limited by one’s background or upbringing, where one lives, or how much money one has. But we also know that the realities of the world in which we live don’t always make that possible, and certainly don’t afford equal opportunities for all. Thank you again to the many volunteers that have helped make VLP such a vital organization here in Boston and to Executive Director Joanna Allison for having me here tonight to meet and speak to all of you. Know that you have an ally and a partner in the BBA, and together and with the full force of the Boston legal community behind us, we will continue to work toward the ideal of equal access to justice for all.

Thank you

To the dedicated and hardworking VLP volunteers and staff who help to achieve VLP’s mission every day.

2023 JUDGE EDWARD M. GINSBURG GIDEON'S TRUMPET AWARD

HON. ERNEST L. SARASON, JR. (RET.).

"My work with VLP has given me great personal and professional satisfaction."

- Hon. Ernest Sarason, JR. (Ret).

Ernest has represented low-income clients, primarily in consumer credit cases, in the Boston Municipal Court, the (state) District Court, and the (state) District Court Appellate Division. As a former Legal Services lawyer, Ernest respects all organizations that provide high-quality legal representation to low-income clients. He chose VLP because of its commitment to providing low-income consumers access to justice and the support he and other VLP volunteer lawyers receive from VLP's dedicated staff. For Ernest, the one case that stands out when volunteering with VLP is the appeal of damages in a home improvement case against a low-income homeowner in Waltham whose previous attorney has been suspended from the practice of law. Ernest is honored to receive the award named for the late Judge Edward Ginsburg, whose dedication to VLP was unsurpassed. He always enjoyed receiving calls of encouragement from Judge Ginsburg whenever he represented VLP clients.

KIRKLAND & ELLIS

Kirkland began working with the Volunteer Lawyers Project in 2017. The firm initially focused on the Suffolk Family Court Clinic, for which they received the Volunteer Lawyers Project's Most Valuable Partner Award at the Senior Partners for Justice luncheon. Their volunteers have billed over 1,100 hours to this clinic since that time. Stephanie Berdik was recently honored as a Senior Partner for Justice MVP by the Family Law and Guardianship Unit. The Kirkland and Ellis lawyers' work in the Family Law clinic has facilitated the court process and, most importantly, made a positive difference in the clients' lives.

For Grant Bowen, a Debt Finance Partner in Kirkland's Boston office, the Family Law clinic is a unique opportunity for him. "I have had the opportunity to work with mothers hoping to gain legal custody of their children, fathers who just want to be able to see their kids regularly, and families-- who want the best result for themselves and their loved ones." Grant shares that just sitting down as the first step to assisting clients in listening to their personal stories and using that as a foundation to provide immediate support is the most appreciated in a transactional-heavy setting. "The Family Law clinic provides an opportunity for all of us at Kirkland to engage at the most personal level of legal service."

In 2018, Kirkland and Ellis' Pro Bono team began volunteering at the Civil Appeals Court and Fair Debt Collection Clinics. The firm has also recently started volunteering at the Housing Court Clinic. Their hope is for the clients to walk away with a sense that the volunteer attorney who assisted them truly cared about their challenges and thought strategically about the best way to resolve them.

Kirkland and Ellis' lawyers appreciate VLP's readily available mentorship and on-demand comprehensive training, the offering of both in-person and virtual clinics, as it has been helpful in a meaningful way to clients with important needs. "Kirkland is committed to providing legal services without charge to those who cannot afford counsel, aiming to improve clients' lives, better communities, and deepening their professional experience. We are grateful for the opportunity to partner with the Volunteer Lawyers Project to achieve this mission."

MORGAN BROWN, ESQ.

"I believe in the mission of VLP and every time I volunteer, I see the appreciation in the clients and I know VLP makes a difference."

- Morgan Brown, Esq.,

Morgan Brown began volunteering at VLP's Family Law and Guardianship units through her firm Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati. Morgan has been able to attend both the in-person and virtual clinics and has been a master at both. From the start, Morgan was willing and eager to take on Family Law and Guardianship cases, even though Guardianship may have been more challenging. Throughout volunteering at VLP, Morgan has been a zealous advocate for her clients, provided excellent advice, and has been able to appreciate the difference in impact when working with clients face to face rather than through the computer screen. Morgan became a lawyer to have an impact on clients' lives and through her many hours of volunteering she certainly has accomplished that many times over while attending more than 24 clinics with over 85 hours of pro bono work. Morgan finds the In-Person Clinic at the Suffolk Court to be very impactful.

MORGAN BROWN, ESQ.

While she gets to speak to the clients over Zoom in the Virtual Clinics, it is a different experience to meet the client in person to help them. It feels like there is a stronger connection to the client and their case. Morgan hopes she has been someone pro bono clients can trust to help them out of their situations, even if such help is only a small step. She hopes her work with the clients is always encouraging for them, even if she ends up just being someone who listens to them when it seems like no one else has. Growing up, Morgan was exposed to troubling family experiences. When she decided to become a lawyer, she wanted to have some impact in the area of Family Law and Guardianship to prevent some of the circumstances she had seen, and to remedy them. Doing this work pro bono holds a special place in her heart because people deserve a family, no matter how much money they have. Morgan thanks VLP and its staff for making her experience rewarding!

DAVID FERRERA, ESQ.

"Giving back to the community through pro bono work has always been a priority throughout my legal career. It's gratifying to know I've helped someone in need to navigate the system." -David Ferrera, Esq.

David Ferrera began volunteering with the Volunteer Lawyers Project's Housing Unit in 1995. The Housing Unit typically refers to David as a member of the "A-Team" because David routinely signs up to volunteer with the unit's virtual Answer and Discovery clinic and provides superb advice to our clients in need. David has also attended the Housing Unit's Lawyer for the Day clinic in person and virtually, where he can represent clients, win motions before the court, and negotiate favorable agreements. The Lawyer for the Day in Housing Court, both virtual and in-person, is always an adventure for him. David attends VLP's Housing clinics and has taken cases on for full representation. His willingness to help our-- clients, coupled with his expertise as an attorney, is nothing short of amazing, and for that, VLP, especially the Housing unit, will be forever grateful. David hopes his impact on his clients has been positive, where he can help a tenant find new or better housing with extra money in their pocket from a settlement. "There is a wonderful expression: "It's better to light one candle than curse the darkness." Rental housing in Massachusetts is messy – for both landlords and tenants. The courts are crowded; the law is complicated; the economics often don't work; and well-intentioned government subsidies and grants create additional layers of complexity. If experienced lawyers struggle to navigate the system, how can we expect pro se litigants to do it? As a trial lawyer with more than 25 years of experience practicing in Massachusetts courts, I feel an obligation to try to light a few candles to help people get a fresh start with their housing needs." David wants to thank Rochelle Jones and the VLP Housing unit who helped him this year – Laura, Maya, Seila, Adrian, Caitlyn, Lena, and Aubrey. He states he always has the support of this knowledgeable and dedicated VLP staff, and their commitment to assisting pro bono lawyers is unmatched!" - David Ferrera, Esq., Nutter McClennen & Fish
